enlightening learning for life and business

'Are you ready to take a quantum leap in your effectiveness as a learning and development professional?'

Become accredited to deliver TOM materials and events

Succeed in today's tough and competitive L&D environment by joining the list of world class learning facilitators. Learn how to deliver the fastest, most effective training system ever devised.

Whether you are training leaders, managers, presenters, sales executives or other trainers, the TOM process will lift you into the higher echelons of L&D professionals. Invest in your professional and personal development and completely transform the way you deliver information to others. In three dynamic, inspirational and confidence-building days you will:

- Learn to design and deliver TOM learning events, using the unique TOM Concepts and Multiple Intelligences, in an engaging, efficient, enlightening and brain-stimulating way
- Learn to deliver 'Twice the content in half the time with double the recall'
- Improve memory and the speed at which your delegates learn
- Learn to create results that have that elusive 'Wow' factor
