Want to know more about joining the TOM team?

There is so much happening with TOM that it sometimes can get a bit overwhelming - too much information and too many possibilities! The best thing to do is to call us up for a chat about how you could get involved, and come along to the next 'Are you TOM trained?' workshop. But... if you really are keen to read a little more about the TOM process, as it stands at the moment (because it is evolving every day), go to 'Join the TOM team', under Home on the website menu bar, and follow the links. But be warned; you'll probably be back here soon with more curiosity and even more excitement about where you might go with TOM!

Not quite ready?

If for some reason you're not quite ready to participate in an 'Are you TOM trained?' workshop, or the advertised dates are not convenient, you could join TOM's Mailing List (on the everyoneagreeswithTOM.com website), click 'Yes please!' and we will notify you of alternative dates and locations, give you a FREE Report ('How to Learn or Teach Anything TEN TIMES Faster!') and also send you weekly TOM Tips.

Or you could also contact us (please do!) to talk about your needs.
